HUMANN BROTHERS TO SPEND SUMMER IN COLORADO

To Be Connected with Evangelist
in Pueblo

"We're going to spend the summer in Colorado," was the remark made by Julius Humann when asked about the vacation plans of the Humann brothers' quartet.

"We have been asked to assist in the Colorado camp-meeting," he went on, "which will be held in Manhattan Beach, Denver, June 17-25. After the camp-meeting we are going to Pueblo to connect with an evangelistic effort conducted by Evangelist A. E. Lickey."

The Kansas Conference has requested the quartet to attend the camp-meeting at Enterprise before going to Denver. Accordingly the boys plan to leave for this appointment June 5.

When questioned about some of the "high points" of their recent Colorado tour, Julius Humann declared that his highest point was when he climbed Gateway Rock in the Garden of the Gods and became so frightened that he asked his brothers to call for the fire department to assist him down with their ladders. His brother, Harvey, however, after making several futile attempts to scale the rock, gave up.

The brothers report a very pleasant and profitable trip and say that they are glad that they are going back to Colorado for the summer.

Bridal Shower for Elsie Dixon

Thirty friends of Miss Elsie Dixon, class of '27, surprised her Sunday, May 22 when they called her to the North Hall parlor and presented her with many attractive and useful gifts in a bridal shower.

After a brief program Miss Dixon was directed to take the note which an owl sitting on the mantel of the fireplace, held for her; this contained directions to the hiding places of the gifts. Each guest furnished one of her favorite recipes.

Light refreshments were served by the hostesses, Misses Marybelle Huffman, Fern Halverson, and Esther Belle Hartzell.

MR. AND MRS. OSS TO CONNECT WITH BOULDER SANITARIUM

Mr. Oss to Be Desk Clerk, Mrs. Oss
Social Matron

Mr. and Mrs. James Oss are leaving for Boulder, Colo., Monday, June 6. They will connect there with the Boulder Sanitarium, Mr. Oss as desk clerk and Mrs. Oss as social matron. Mrs. Oss is closing up her work as registrar of Union College next week, recording the second semester's grades and getting the records in shape for Miss Martha Montgomery, who will assume the registrar's duties this summer.

Mrs. Oss has been registrar for three years. Mr. Oss is a member of the class of '27. He came to Union from Watertown, S. Dak. He finished his academic work at Redfield Academy in 1924. He served as farm manager at Plainview Academy, Maple Plains, Minn., during the summer of 1924.

Everett Atkinson and Leona Griffin Married

Miss Leona Griffin, of Houston, Tex., and Everett Atkinson, of Brady, Nebr., were married Monday evening, May 23, at 7:30 at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Clarence Johnson, of College View. Elder Charles Burroughs read the wedding ceremony. Twenty guests were present. The couple were attended by Elvin Atkinson, brother of the groom, and Miss Louise Auger, of Sabetha, Kans.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. A. C. Griffin sang, "I Love You Truly." The wedding march was played by Estella Brittain, who also sang "Because" at the completion of the ceremony. She was accompanied by Miss Auger.

After a light wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson drove to Brady, Nebr., for a two weeks' visit with his parents. They will be at home after that in Seward, Nebr., where Mr. Atkinson has been canvassing.

Word has been received of the marriage of Cecyl Morey, who attended school here the second semester, to Miss Anna Mae Moore, of Nevada, Iowa. They were married at the bride's home, Wednesday evening, May 25.

MANY STUDENTS REMAIN ON CAMPUS FOR THE SUMMER MONTHS

Each Department Has a Few Who Are
"Staying by the Stuff"

The college campus is sparsely peopled at present with students who are "staying by the stuff" for either a part or for all of the summer. Each department has retained a few students to get everything in shape for and to keep the school in running order during the summer session. Ethel Dunks, Esther Guishard, Helen Hunter, Irma Shafer, and Cecil Cook are the only ones remaining of the old force who worked in the kitchen. R. W. Leach and Lawrence Martin are busy in the carpentry shop; William Shafer, Peter Merkel, Alex Miller on the farm; Merrill Smith and Charles Robinson in the power house; Lloyd Gould is running the college truck; Donivon Leach and Samuel Merkle are the night watchmen. Daniel Frick is helping around the administration building, and Oswald Specht is the instructor in the chemistry laboratory.

Misses Theresa Brickman, Leona Wetzel, Elsie Ortnor, and Helen Kunz are assistants in the business office; and Anita Martin and Ruby Lea in the registrar's office. Katherine Beck is doing stenographic work for Miss Rees. Dorothy Foreman is acting as summer school librarian. Fern Halverson and Beth Townsend carried on a general housecleaning at North Hall immediately after school was out. Vera Garvin works in the laundry. Others who have remained at the college are Margaret Kies, Marybelle Huffman, Geneva Kern, Pearl Pride, and Alma Lorenz.

UNION COLLEGE FACULTY ENGAGED IN VARIOUS LINES OF WORK THIS SUMMER

Some Are Teaching; Others Are Studying or Traveling

The college faculty are finding many different lines of occupation with which to fill the summer months. Some of them are in the field gathering students for the next school year; others are here at the college, keeping it in running order and conducting summer school; and still others are spending the summer in study so as to more efficiently prepare themselves for the winter's teaching.

President Thiel, with Professor H. K. Schilling, will visit the camp-meetings in the Northern Union Conference.

Professor H. U. Stevens is visiting the Missouri and the Kansas camp-meetings. On his return he and Professor Saxton will go to New York to spend six weeks in study and research work in the larger eastern libraries.

Professor D. G. Hilts will visit the Inter-Mountain and the Nebraska camp-meetings.

Professor W. J. McComb will remain at Union as principal of the summer session and instructor in history. Associated with him on the

FIFTY-TWO UNION STUDENTS ARE GIVEN BACHELOR DEGREES

Forty-two Are Graduated from the Professional
Courses and Ten from the Academic Course

The thirty-sixth annual commencement exercises of Union College were held May 19 to 22. Forty-eight persons were given the bachelor of arts degree; four were given the bachelor of science degree; forty-two were graduated from the professional courses; and ten from the academy course.

On the evening of May 19, 1927 the class night program was presented in the Seventh-day Adventist church.

To the stirring strains of Schubert's "March Militaire," played by Professor C. C. Engel's orchestra, the graduating classes slowly marched to the rostrum. The president's address by Oswald S. Specht was an embodiment of the sentiments of the class members upon gaining their long-striven-for goal. Elmer L. Pinget read the class poem, which was a beautiful presentation of the subject of friendship.

"The Path of True Glory" was the title of the oration given by Louis Hansen. It was a convincing treatise on the ultimate end of a life of service.

Miss Lois Doney presented to the college the class gift—a pamphlet and clipping file for the library. Roger Altman read the class will. The class willed a part of their treasure to the junior class, a part to the college students in general, but reserved the right of taking one article with them—the knowledge and experience gained while they were at Union. Many favorable reports were later received concerning the audience's enjoyment of this number.

Esther Belle Hartzell very successfully but reluctantly bade farewell to old Union, its president, its faculty, its junior class, its students, and its graduating classes.

The music numbers given were a cornet duet by Wilbur James and Leonard Thompson, and a graduates' farewell song by the class.

The following evening the consecration service was held in the college auditorium. Professor W. W. Prescott delivered the address of the evening. The crucified, risen, and mediating Christ was the theme of his talk. A large proportion of the members of the several graduating classes responded with very earnest testimonials as to the benefits that they had received from accepting this personal Saviour. A beautiful quartet selection was rendered by the Humann brothers' quartet. Elder H. U. Stevens offered the consecration prayer; then, while Miss Estelle Kiehnhoff played Rossini's recessional, "Cujus Animam," the classes silently left the chapel.

The baccalaureate service was held in the church on Sabbath morning, May 21. Professor Engel's orchestra played while the graduating classes, the faculty, and the students assembled in the auditorium of the church.

After the church choir had sung "Angel Voices, Ever Singing," Elder S. E. Wight offered prayer. Elder J. L. Shaw, treasurer of the General Conference, then addressed the congregation. He told of a school anyone may attend. Jesus Christ is the teacher; the textbook is the Word of God; the degrees all spell "service"; and each graduate immediately receives an appointment to the same field of labor. To close the service, Professor C. C. Engel's string quartet played a very beautiful selection, Rubenstein's "Molto Lento."

UNION GRADUATES TAKE UP VARIOUS LINES OF WORK

Alma Lorenz Sails August 4 for Hawaii

Union College continues to send her young people out to fill the places for which they have been preparing. Among those recently accepting position are Judd Lippincott, Miss Alma Lorenz, Miss Lu Zetta Krassin, all of the class of '27 and Harold McCully, class of '28.

Mr. Lippincott is to connect with Campion Academy as instructor of science. He has taken all of his college work at Union, and for two years has acted as astronomy laboratory assistant.

Last fall two of Union's graduates, Miss Pfeifer and Miss Ellen Wilson joined the faculty of the Hawaiian Mission Academy, Honolulu, Hawaii. Now Miss Alma Lorenz is to be added to this number. As a child Miss Lorenz attended the Union College training school. Later she returned to complete her college course here. "My five years' experience in teaching makes me the more eager to enter upon my labors in Hawaii," enthusiastically remarks Miss Lorenz. "I shall sail August 4. I do not yet know just what I shall teach but I shall endeavor to do what the Lord assigns to me."

Minnesota welcomes home Miss Lu-Zetta Krassin who has been a student here for four years. The coming year she will be instructor in English in her state academy, Maplewood, at Maple Plains, Minn.

Harold McCully has accepted the position of assistant principal at Panama, Nebr., and will teach English and history.

Alfred Fossey and Miss Bertha Astleford have received a call to connect with the Che Kiang Mission Station, East China, but definite arrangements have not yet been made.

The Poet's Corner

The poem below was written by Elmer Pingenot and read by him on the class night program given May 19.

CLASS POEM

Friends may part, but friendship lingers
In the true heart's mercy-seat,
And the memories rise like incense
Making friendship sacred, sweet.

Hearts united in a purpose
Soon unite in loves and fears,
Forming Golden Cords of friendship
As enduring as the years.

Now we lay upon the altar
All our hearts have learned to love,
And the fires of service kindle
With a coal sent from above.

Service! 'Tis a living fire—
Fed with love and fanned with prayer—
That consumes; yet in consuming
Leaves a fragrance in the air.

Friendship makes of service, pleasure,
Lifts the load and lightens care;
Service glorifies our friendship,
Service here, and glory there.

Classmates, all the world is waiting
For the friendship we can give;
All the world is starving, longing,
For the lives that we must live.
Classmates, all the world needs
friendship,

All the world needs sympathy;
Needs the little acts of kindness,
Needs the love of you and me.

Friends must part, but friendship lingers,
Memory clings to deeds of love.
Let us part in faith and courage,
Knowing we shall meet above.

FIFTY-TWO GIVEN DEGREES

On the evening of May 22, at eight o'clock a large congregation witnessed the impressive entrance of the gowned graduates, as they took their places in the church auditorium for the commencement service.

After the Humann brothers had sung, Elder Charles Thompson, president of the Northern Union Conference, gave the commencement address. Elder Thompson spoke of the tests of a real man. Job was exemplified as a true man. After one series of his terrible trials he uttered these words, "My lips shall not speak wickedness, nor my tongue utter deceit." The speaker made it plain that everyone may follow the same course that Job did. In closing, Elder Thompson asked the class members a question, "Will He find such among you?"

President Leo Thiel, assisted by Blanche Wood-Oss, presented the diplomas to the various graduates. The church was nicely decorated in the class colors, delft blue and silver, and in white ophelia tea roses. The emblem, the clock tower, hung from the archway over the rostrum. A part of the class motto, "Then on!

then on! where duty leads, our course be onward still," was placed below the emblem. On class night the graduates entered the platform through a very pretty gateway decorated in the class colors, and lighted with two radiant lights.

Wind Storm Damages Silo

The wind storm of Thursday night, May 26, did about sixty dollars worth of damage to buildings belonging to Union College. The major disaster was the collapsing of the silo at the northeast corner of the barn; there were also several windows blown out and other minor effects.

In Lincoln the damage is estimated at $50,000 including the $10,000 damages done to a carnival at Havelock.

Son: Can you sign your name with your eyes shut, daddy?

Father: Certainly!

Son: Well, shut your eyes and sign my school report.—People's Journal.

UNION COLLEGE PRESS BEGINS EXPANSION

Many Students Employed This Summer

According to Mr. C. Sparks, the manager, the Union College Press has a definite plan for expansion outlined. This, he states, includes both the development of printing in a commercial way, and in an educational way. The beginning in a commercial way was made in the expansion and re-equipment of the printing plant a short time ago when one of the old presses was disposed of and a Chandler & Price, new series, 8 x 12 was installed.

This press is now operating and doing excellent work. The beginning of the development of the educational end of the work was made a short time ago, when the Pacific Press so generously donated $1,000 to equip the laboratory for the printing classes. This plan will enable the press to give much stronger work in a scholastic way than ever before, while at the same time it leaves the institution without the inconvenience of a number of beginning students who must keep things more or less irregular until they have had considerable experience in handling type and other printing materials.

The personnel of the press this summer is as follows: Miss Mabel Hinkhouse is reading proof and looking after the details of the shop. Miss Arvella Menzel is doing the stenographic work and bookkeeping. Roger Curtis is operating the Linograph. Conard Rees is working in the type room. Frank Baer is working on the mailing list and doing other general work. Miss Eva Parker, from Hill City, Kans., is assisting in the binding work. Miss Lois Morey is staying over until the college calendars are out. Vere Sparks, a graduate of Campion Academy this year, has joined the force and at present is in the press room. This, with the assistance of D. K. Oxley on rush days is an outline of the workers.
